The Dubuque EAA Chapter 327 was scheduled to meet at the Dyersville Airport after the Young Eagle flights on June 6. Due to the rain, the Eagle flights were cancelled but the Chapter ignored the rain and cold and held their meeting at the airport.

On the left, President Larry Mueller of Platteville, WI fights off the wet and cold. Finally the meeting was called to order in the Pilots Lounge.

The Young Eagle flights were postponed until a later date. All the young eagles were notified by phone of the change.

The EAA Chapter is coming for another meeting in August. I hope the weather is warmer with beautiful sunshine.

The new seeding on the runway has taken hold and is looking excellent. Although we complain about the rain, the new grass loves it.

At the end of May, John Georgen, Sr. of St. Paul, MN flew to Iowa and picked up his son John Jr. of Manchester, in his 1948 Swift. They flew to Dyersville Airport to say hello and check out the latest news. After an hour stay they flew back to Manchester and then John went on to St. Paul.

He and the swift will be back in St. Paul in less than an hour.

What do little airplanes look like when they grow up??????

The Coupe had to share the ramp with a jet while at the Dubuque Airport. Tim Wieneke and Dave Kramer were checking out an Archer when the jet landed and parked along side the Coupe. I bet the jet pilot was jealous.

Notice, they copied the color scheme .

Rules of the Air

25. There are old pilots and there are bold pilots. However, there are no old, bold pilots.

26. When you are lost....Climb, Conserve and Confess. (Actual line from the U.S. Navy SNJ training manual.)

The Summer is going faster than you think - - - FLY and ENJOY

Flying to Dyersville from the Manchester Donuts and Coffee Fly-In Fred Lansing and Dave Kramer caught Ron Radloff passing the Coupe in the C-Flyers' Cessna 172.

Luke Kramer, son of Craig Kramer spends an afternoon at the airport helping change damaged cones and lights. Through the years, cones have been hit by tractors and equipment working on the runway. Because Dyersville has become a Public Use airport, the State of Iowa gave us replacements.

Young Eagles leave the nest at the Dyersville Airport

After two cancellations because of weather, the Young Eagle Flights were held on June 20.

Twenty young aviation enthusiasts got to learn about what makes an airplane fly, how to pre-flight an airplane and then got a ride. Pilots like Tim Wieneke, Keith McCarraher, Craig Kramer and Bill Fitch volunteered their time to fly the kids.

The unsung heroes were the members of the ground crew. Matt Laskowski, Steve Wagner and Dave Kramer took care of the paperwork,

An Amphibian plane landed in Dyersville this month. With wheels down and a powerful thirst they pulled up to the hangar and visited for awhile. The pilot was Bob Smith, owner of Stone Cliff Winery and Dick Anderson, FAA Examiner was co-pilot.

Phil DeShaw brought his mower to the airport and helped with the mowing.

Many hands make light work.
