Pilot Lounge gets a clean look

Joan, Lauren and Dave Kramer grabbed a paint brush and white paint and gave the pilot lounge a clean look. It had not been painted since Keith McCarraher, Dennis Fangman and their children did it several years ago.

Airport Volunteers and Neighbors picnic at the airport

It was a Saturday filled with flying, food and fireworks. Volunteers and neighbors of the airport were treated to model airplane demonstrations, Young Eagle Flights, games, hotdogs and fireworks.

Tony Mineart and Chris Kramer entertained everyone there for several hours with their skills flying the model planes. Andy Kramer brought a bean bag game and Fred Lansing and Craig and Andy Kramer were in charge of fireworks.

Kids (left) watch the model flyers and a Young Eagle gets strapped in for the flight.

Dad doesn't always land in the right spot so he needs help from the "ground crew".

At the end of the day, everyone relaxed and enjoyed food and entertainment. (Almost everyone)

Dick Anderson's Luscomb has been a regular visitor to the airport. Dick is a flight instructor and federal examiner from Dubuque. He enjoys using the Dyersville airport for some of the training.

Beckman High School gets a new look from the air

Beckman High School football complex has a new surface. All looks completed except this end of the field.
