Santa Will Love It

With Christmas a few days away, Santa must have wanted to use the runway, he got SNOW for his sleigh. This photo was shot half way through the storm and the wind has just begun to blow. Needless to say, Santa will be the only one using it in the near future. 10 inches and more coming.

December saw more traffic

With the good weather Sundays were still busy. Dick Kleis flew in for "Hangar Talk" and was number two in the pattern. A beautiful red and polished silver Cessna 140 came in for practice landings. It was a good Sunday morning to swap lies about any topic brought up.

Dick Kleis and Wayne Reicher joined Fred Lansing, Ron Radloff, Tony Mineart, Randy Schuster and Dave Kramer for the morning discussion.

Wayne is still recovering from the surgery he had this year. He is hoping to get the OK to leave for Texas after the first of the year. I guess Wayne doesn't want to put up with the cold anymore.

This photo shows the upper and lower ponds of the Dyersville Sportsman Club. The fall colors are gone but with the foliage off the trees, structures on the ground are easier to see.

Bill and Elaine Fitch flew in and passed Christmas cheer. Elaine belongs to a club that travels to the local airports at Christmas time and passes out good cheer and cookies (if you're lucky).

Sunday Morning at the airport

When not flying or entertaining guest that fly in, you will find group in the pilot lounge "kicking tires". L to R – Ron Radloff, Fred Lansing Mike Trenkamp, Dave Kramer and Craig Kramer.
