The snow is almost gone but the grass is not green. Here it is the end of March and we still have snow and cold weather in the forecast. The Green Cessna 140 landed in Dyersville and has spent a few weeks here. The plane is based in Ankeny, Iowa and the pilot spent time visiting a University of Dubuque student. The airport has been busy considering the winter. A few pilots wanted to land here and we had to tell them not to. We couldn't keep up with the snow with our equipment.

The airport float gets honors

Thanks to Don Mensen, Luke Kramer and our pilots, the Flyers baseball team, the airport float took 3rd place in the St. Pat's Parade. Thank you gentlemen.

AOPA Safety

Download the Air Safety Institute's Mobile Flight Risk Evaluator to clarify the gray areas of making a go/no-go decision. By taking into account your total flying experience, including recent flight hours, how much experience in a given aircraft, weather, terrain, and runway information, this app gives you an assessment of how much risk you may be undertaking for a particular flight—helping you to be more realistic about your skills and proficiency.

- It's free—to anyone!
- Great tool for students, instructors, and veteran aviators
- Offline and online access
- Store performance data for one or more aircraft
- Automatically download real-time airport weather and runway information
- Objective risks, safety recommendations, and explanations
- Helps craft your own personal minimums
- Make better, safer choices

Military Humor

Having just moved into his new office, a pompous, new colonel was sitting at his desk when an airman knocked on the door. Conscious of his new position, the colonel quickly picked up the phone, told the airman to enter, then said into the phone, "Yes, General, I'll be seeing him this afternoon and I'll pass along your message. In the meantime, thank you for your good wishes, sir." Feeling as though he had sufficiently impressed the young enlisted man, he asked, "What do you want?"

"Nothing important, sir," the airman replied, "I'm just here to hook up your telephone."
