Dyersville at Coffee time

Early morning coffee with a little moisture in the air and the sun about to give full glory to the Basilica.

Visitors from the Iowa City area

Over the weekend of Nov 6, Kyle Nohes and Sarah Saprovilla flew their Cessna 172 into Dyersville. They were passing by and noticed activity at the airport. They had never landed on a grass runway so they made several landings and take offs. When they finished, they landed and Fred Lansing entertained them and showed them the facilities. Craig and Dave Kramer were flying the Ercoupe, taking photos for the 2017 Airport Calendar when they heard Kyle and Sarah leaving for home. Have to thank Fred for showing them a good time.

Rapping up the new Lounge

Fred Lansing backfills the septic and lays the drain field.

Finished lounge

The lounge is available to all pilots that land in Dyersville. It will be used for flight planning, checking weather, keeping warm or cool waiting for a car. It will also be used for the meetings of the airport owner and the Dyersville Airport Board. It will be used most on Sunday mornings when flying enthusiasts meet and “kick tires”. We have been working for 21 years for such a facility. Through volunteer work and donated materials we have suitable place for our meetings and flight planning. Thanks to all that have contributed.

A portion of the airport pond is being filled

About one third of the pond will be filled with solid fill. This will give the airport more room for hangars or a business that may want to move there.

The airport property is owned by private investors and there are still shares of stock available. Anyone interested in aviation or future development of Dyersville, call Dave Kramer and he will explain how the airport is set up and what the cost of stock is.
