Another busy day at the airport

. While Ron and Fred were busy fitting pipe for the well, Bill Barnes flew in with the Archer and Dave Hogan flew in with his Swift. The whole morning the sound of the Swift arriving and departing while giving rides to his family.

Fred Lansing also flew his helicopter to Dyersville rather than driving

The model flyers are fine tuning their skills. On many weekends and evenings Tony Mineart and Tym Thiesen can be seen making their models dance through the sky.

Some wonder how models and full size airplanes can share the same airspace. Well, the model flyers have a hand held radio and will be in touch with a pilot when he approaches the airport. Another safety factor is the runway lights. When a pilot radios he is in the area and will be landing, the runway lights go on and alert the model flyers. It also alerts the runway mower there is a plane coming in. This is one of the values of a small airport - - recreational, educational and good for local business.

Safety Lectures on the Plane

"As you exit the plane, make sure to gather all of your belongings. Anything left behind will be distributed evenly among the flight attendants. Please do not leave children or spouses."

Worthington Sportsman Pond

We are lucky. Our area not only has the Worthington Sportsman's Pond but the Dyersville Sportsman Pond and the Tri County Sportsman Club North of Holy Cross. All three have picnicking, fishing and a shooting range.

This is a way to spend a lazy warm afternoon. These canoeists are on the North Fork of the Maquoketa River between Worthington and Cascade.
